DEATH OF MRS. DAVID S. WALKER.

She was Widow of One of Florida's Noted Governor's and Supreme Court Judges.

Tallahassee has this week mourned the death of Mrs. David S. Walker, one of the best known and best beloved of her residents. Mrs. Walker passed peacefully to rest early Monday morning at her residence opposite Capitol Square, and the announcement was received with deep sorrow throughout the community.

In position, in the graces of gentle womanhood, in nobility of character, in breadth of culture and in deeds of benevolence, Mrs. Walker was easily among the foremost women in Florida, and many indeed in the varied walks of life are those who will miss her kindly manner and cherished friendship.

Mrs. Walker was born in the old Indian Territory, her pious father, Rev. E. B. Duncan, having been an antebellum missionary to the red men in the days when that section was a frontier country. There her early years were spent, and there perhaps she acquired that frank, natural and generous, yet always dignified manner, which was so charming to her friends throughout life. Her mother, before her marriage, was Miss Courtney Walker, a relative of the prominent Walker family of Middle Florida. The Rev. Mr. Duncan later moved his family to Florida and was stationed at a different point in the State. Mrs. Walker leaves one daughter, Courtney, wife of Justice Robert S. Cockrell, of the Florida Supreme Court, and two brothers, Messrs. E. P. Duncan, of Starke, and Wm. E. Duncan, of Lloyd, Fla.

She was married in 1875 to Hon. David S. Walker, one of Florida's most distinguished citizens, who served the State faithfully and with honor as Justice of the Supreme Court and as governor, as well as in other official and professional capacities. He was an eminent lawyer and publicist and held the respect and affection of the people of Florida throughout a long life of usefulness.

Mrs. Walker was an earnest and devoted member of the Episcopal church and her interest in works of charity and benevolence was deep and unflagging. She was tenderly beloved by the people of Tallahassee, and the example of her noble, useful life will long dwell in the memory of all who enjoyed her sweet friendship.

The proprietors of the El Provedo Cigar Factory have decided to leave Tallahassee for Tampa. They will begin business in that city about the 15th inst., but will not close up here entirely for the next two months. The factory will remain under the management of Mr.

THE CARTER MEMORIAL

It Will Also be One of the Public Improvements for Next Year.

Editor True Democrat:

In your last week's issue, mention is made of many improvements in new building projects, &c., but the "Carter Memorial," which is possibly a private enterprise, but public in the sense of a $8,000 improvement to the city, with many moral advantages, such as a free reading room, gymnasium, St. Andrews Brotherhood hall, &c. Can you not give us a good word.

R. H. T.
Overlooking this commendable enterprise was not intentional, and The True Democrat is glad indeed to learn that the "Carter Memorial" project is to be revived and pushed to a successful termination. The beloved rector of St. John's church, which he served so long and faithfully, deserves this tribute to his memory, and Tallahassee people will be glad indeed when this work is accomplished.

TALLAHASSEE NEGRO

Mortally Wounded While Burglarizing a Tampa House.

Tampa Tribune.]

Charley Johnson, a negro giving his home as Tallahassee, was mortally wounded this morning at 2 o'clock as he jumped from a window in the home of William Stafford, on Fifteenth street, between Third and Fourth avenues.

Mr. Stafford heard a noise in the house and on starting out to investigate saw the body of some one against the light from a window. The intruder made an effort to escape, and was fired on as he sprang from the window. The bullet entered his right side, piercing the lung. He was found lying on the ground beneath the window. Dr. Lawrence was called and stated that negro cannot live. He was carried to the county jail.

5 or 6 doses "666" will cure any case of Chills and Fever. Price 25c. 7-13c
